FOR MOR 7 GRADUATES, GAP-YEAR STUDENTS

Finished Mor 7. What is the next step?

For many students, English is the barrier between school and an international future.

"I understand a little, but I cannot speak."

Communication in real situations

"I studied English for years but forgot most of it."

Daily practice and correction

"I want to study abroad, but my English is too low."

IELTS / pathway readiness

"I need a gap-year plan that leads somewhere."

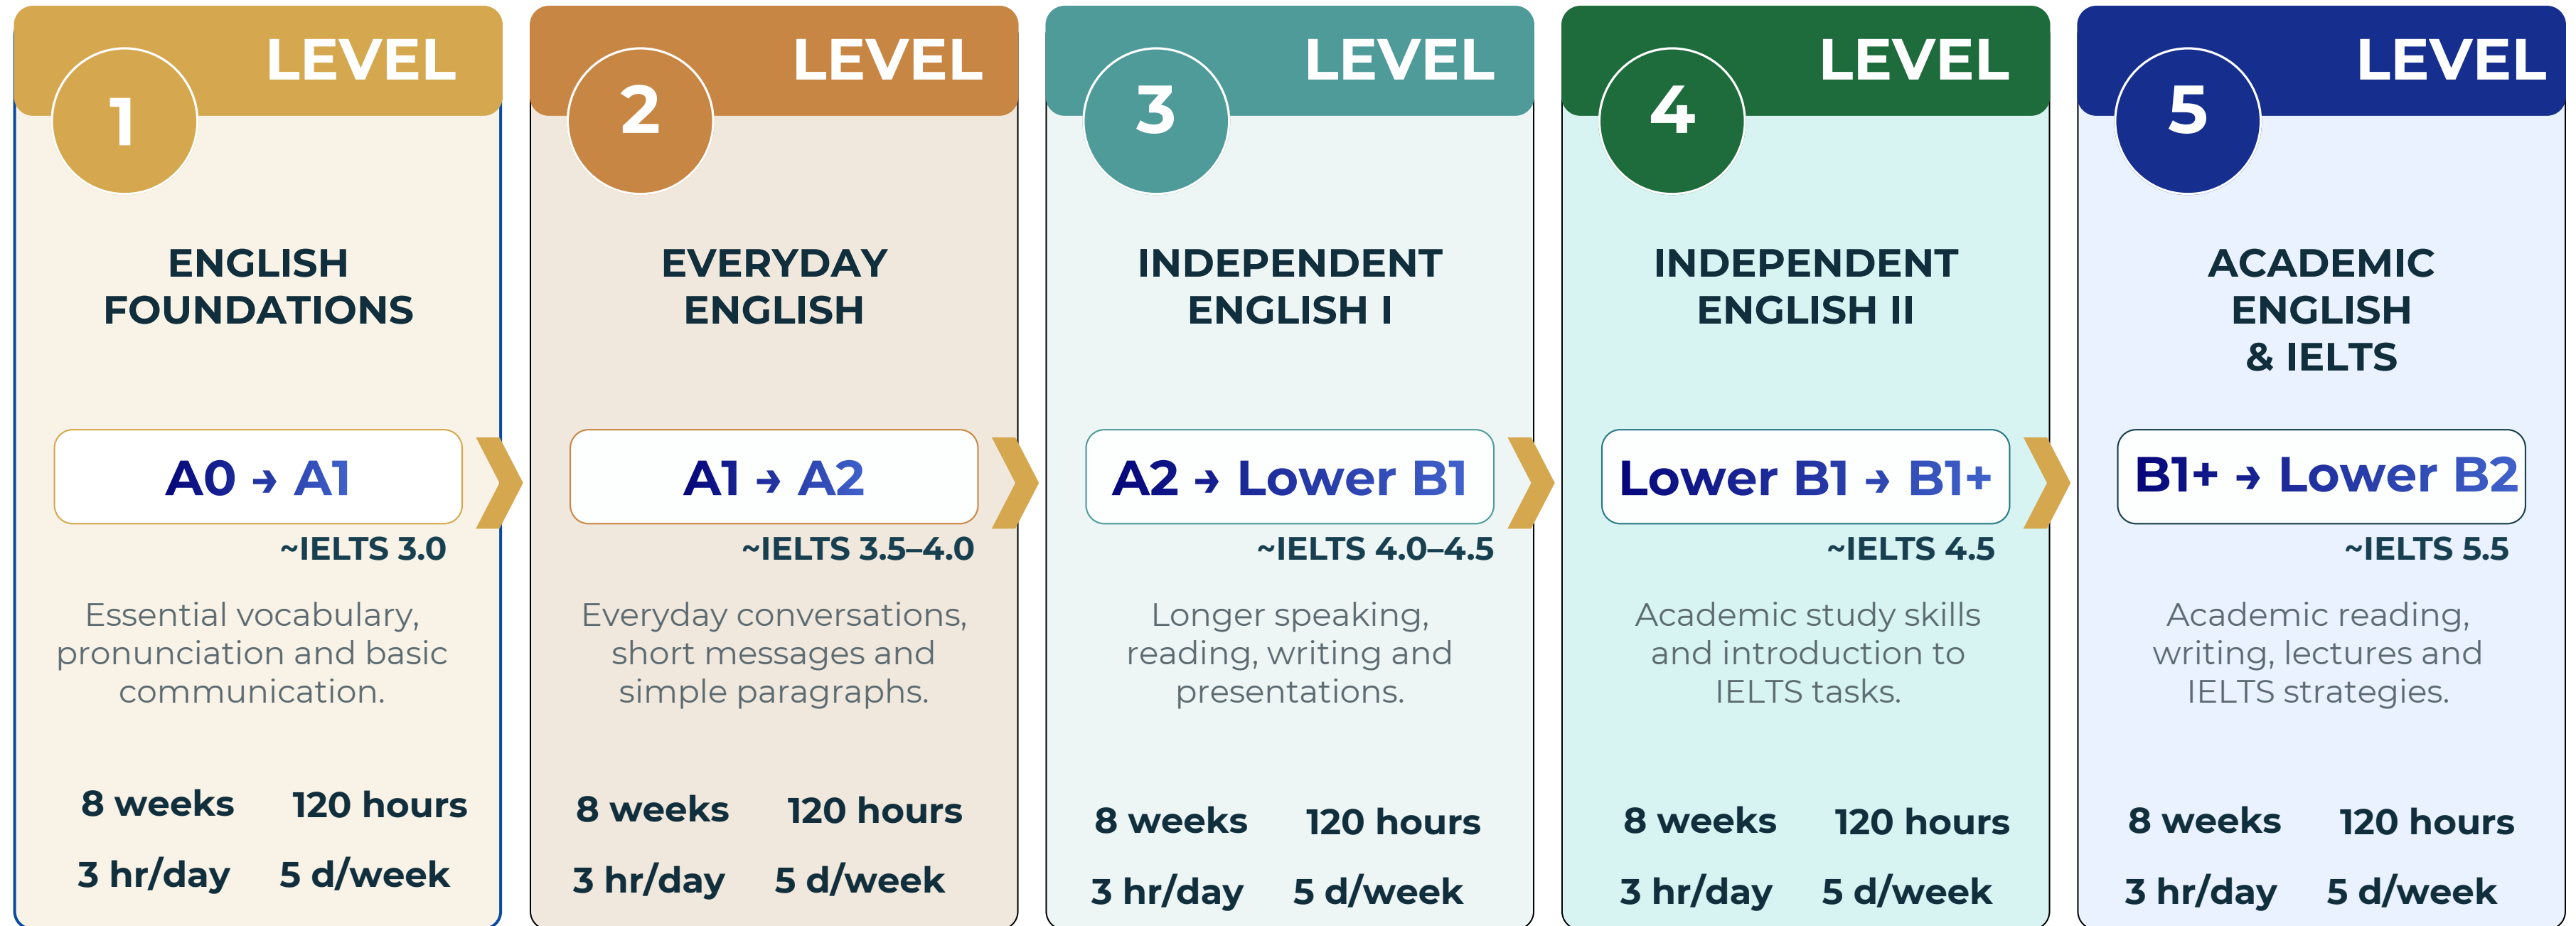

A clear 8-week study plan

The answer is not "more English classes". It is a structured pathway.

Five levels. One clear journey.

Complete beginners normally need up to 40 weeks to reach IELTS 5.5 readiness.

Entry is based on a placement assessment. Students with some English may start above Level 1.

What students learn each day

A balanced three-hour lesson—not passive textbook study.

25 min Warm-up, vocabulary, pronunciation

50 min Core English lesson

40 min Listening or reading development

40 min Speaking or writing practice

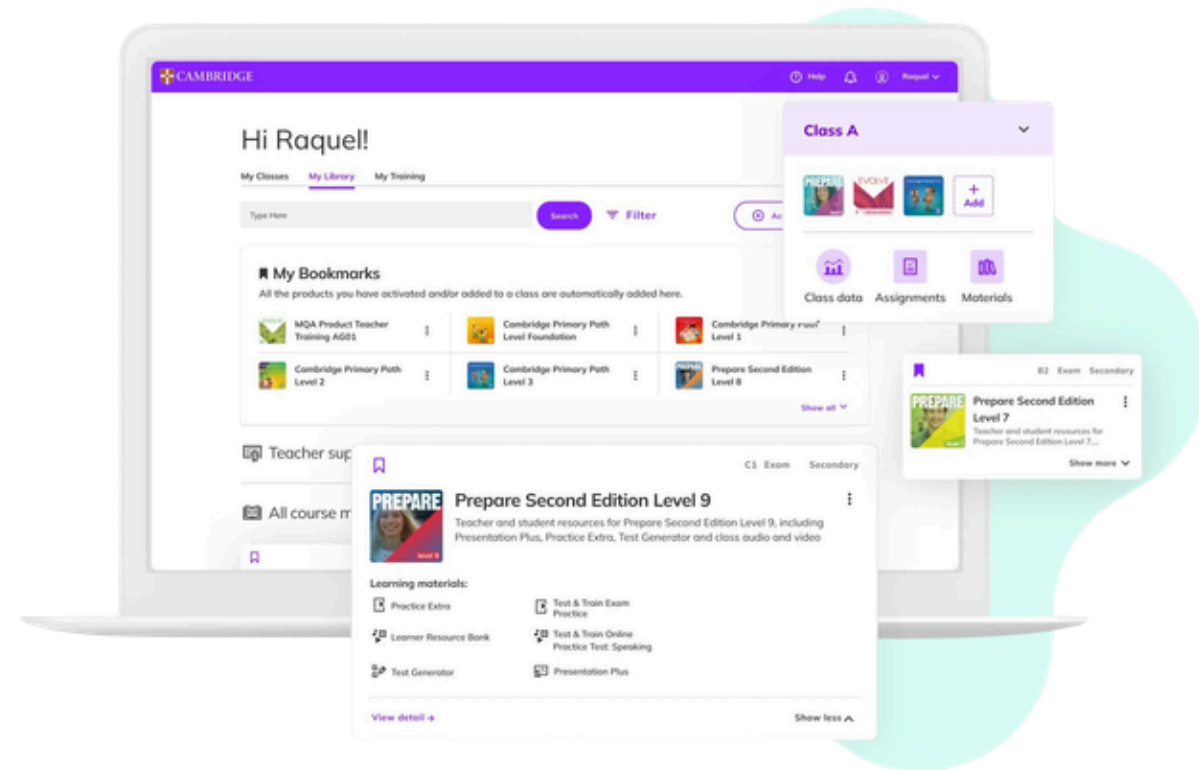

15 min Task, project or progress check

The objective is active English use: students speak, listen, write, receive feedback and practise again.

Cambridge-supported learning

Recognised English course materials plus structured digital practice.

Cambridge English materials

Structured course content selected for each level

Cambridge One access

Digital practice, audio, video and interactive activities

Teacher monitoring

Assignments and progress checks beyond the classroom

Cambridge One

Parents can see the progress

The programme is intensive, but it is also monitored and transparent.

Placement assessment

Start at the correct level

Mid-course review

Know what is improving

End-level assessment

Check readiness for next level

Progress feedback

Clear advice for student and parents

No false promise. No blind progression. Students move forward when they are academically ready.

What success looks like

The pathway develops confidence first, then academic readiness.

For a complete beginner, SHV recommends a realistic standard pathway of up to five 8-week levels.

Programme fee and what is included

Simple all-inclusive pricing for each 8-week level.

$995

per 8-week level
